GENERAL DESCRIPTION: In the 1800's as the large cattle drives from Texas, Oklahoma and other areas discovered the rich fertile grasslands that are today known as South Dakota it became the destination for millions of cattle. Those ranchers soon discovered that they needed settlements and marketing access for their cattle. Livestock Markets sprung up and the settlements and Railroad soon followed sending cattle to eastern feeders.

For decades the Mitchell Livestock Auction Market has offered such high quality livestock marketing for the ranchers, backgrounders, Cow/Calf operations both commercial and purebred. The Mitchell Livestock Market has dedicated itself to producers of all types and their success. For 5 of the past 6 years the Mitchell Livestock Market was the Number 1 cattle selling market in South Dakota with numbers ranging from approximately 260,000 to a little over 300,000 head. Since 2010, they have had over 16,800 contributors/consigners from South Dakota, Iowa, Nebraska, North Dakota, Montana, Wisconsin, and Minnesota. They have over 300 permanent buyers who support the market and its clients. There is also a large number of customs/private feedlots located close by from Iowa, Nebraska as well as South Dakota. The market is in the unique position of getting 2 turns at some of the cattle because of the extensive backgrounding programs in the area.

The facilities are as modern and up to date as any market in the area. From the time the trucks enter the market until the last animal is loaded out for a new home it is designed to be as stress free and smooth flowing as possible. This assures both the buyer and seller that their cattle are being handled the best that they possibly can be.
