GENERAL DESCRIPTION: What a great spring opportunity!! The Wanda J. Philips Estate is going to give some fortunate buyer the opportunity to own a beautiful East Central Nebraska farm. How does this sound for your operation or investment portfolio? Everyone talks about real estate values being all about location, location, location to determine its worth. Consider the location on this farm that checks all the boxes!! Located in the heart of Eastern Nebraska's rich farm soils, large livestock production almost literally next door is: cattle feedlots, hog production facilities, chicken farms, ethanol plants, all this plus some of the most progressive elevators and marketing facilities any where in the United States. Your grain marketing options seem endless, which can only equate into some of the most competitive bidding for your product that is available anywhere in the farming world.

The Cedar County FSA shows 153.21 cropland acres with a 145.80-acre corn base with a 160 bu PLC Yield Index. The farm is currently enrolled in the ARC County program.

The NRCS office shows the main soil types to be Crofton-Nora and Nora with smaller amounts of Moody, Coleridge, Alcester and Aowa. This gently sloped farm carries an NCCPI soybean weighted average of 66.5. Very Nice!

With all the uncertainties in world markets today there may never have been a better time to invest in good quality farmland. All the “experts” saying “there is a flight to safety in hard assets. That’s where the smart money is going.” Well, what is a hard asset that you can walk on, touch and will always be there providing an income stream while appreciating in value as time goes on? FARMLAND! The only way you can get anything from gold, silver or any other metals or hard assets are for the price to go up, but nothing comes in while you wait. For generations good, hard-working farm families have shown that by doing the things others aren’t willing to do, risking, hard work, conservation and future family legacies in mind puts them and their families in a very enviable position for the future! You now have a chance to make a life-changing decision to be the one to do just that! I hope you will. All the best from all of us at Brock Auction Co. & Bruce R. Brock Real Estate.
